Good for the Sole

The offices of ecofabulous are constantly inundated by companies trying to bamboozle us into recommending their green products, but we needed no convincing to feature Teragren, whose stunning bamboo flooring we want to shout about from the rooftops.

Beautiful, sustainable and durable, bamboo is the perfect choice in even the highest-traffic areas of your home. The flooring is made from moso bamboo, which is known for its density and remarkable tensile strength. In fact, the material is so strong that it has been used in the construction of buildings, bridges and scaffolds for centuries. Better yet, bamboo is a highly-renewable material, which helps reduce our reliance on our planet's dwindling timber resources.

In addition to floors, the company also make stair parts, veneers and butcher block-style countertops out of bamboo, all of which are available in a variety of styles and finishes.

And there is a bonus: The material is far cheaper than the average hardwood floor making it an economical choice as well as a beautiful one.
