Teragren

August 06, 2008 - Fitting with current design trends, Teragren's Synergy Strand bamboo floating flooring is wide-planked for a modern look. Using a glueless, self-locking system, the surface is significantly harder than red oak, making it suitable for areas that are highly trafficked. The planks are crafted through a process that fuses together bamboo strands with an environmentally safe adhesive. Available in wheat, chestnut, java and brindle, a blend of natural and caramelized bamboo strands, the planks measure 7 11/16 in. wide x 75 in. long.
