Description

Teragren's hard and durable alternative to traditional butcher block brings an intriguing and subtle parquet pattern of end-grain bamboo into modern kitchens. Manufactured to exacting standards, our furniture-grade end-grain butcher block is made with a formaldehyde-free and food-safe adhesive perfect for table tops as well as kitchen counters and islands. When used for food preparation areas, an environmentally friendly, food-safe finish is required. Sealing with a penetrating finish on all sides is necessary to maintain proper moisture balance.
